FREW & CAMPBELL PURLISHESS AND PROPRIES

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1878.

THE East River National Bank, New York, expects to reduce its capital stock from $350,000 to $250,000, a measure which was resolved upon a few days ago Mr. Charles Jenkins, the president of the bank, says that the main reason for contracting its capital is the fact that the real estate, which represents much of that capital, has shrunken enough to diminish its actual worth by $100,000. The method will be to retire 4000 out of its 14,000 shares of capital stock. This will be divided pro rata among stockholders and with their full consent.

ANOTHER colony of emigrants sailed from New York for Liberia on Wednesday last. This last company numbers sixty-nine members, and each person will be supported for six months after ar-rival at the expense of the society, in order that all may have a fair chance for a good start in the new home. This is one of the most peculiar coloniza-tion schemes in many particulars that has ever been undertaken, and its results will be watched with particular interest on this side of the water. It is announced that efforts are to be made to open up the back country away from the coast in Liberia, and that roads will be built so that the products of the interior can be brought down to the sea.

$84,050,000 for both metals.

Mr. John E. Owens is now at his Maryland country residence, and is said to be planning a professional tour of the world, to begin next spring, to continue the products of the interior can be brought down to the sea.

THE Philadelphia Times says inquiry amount advanced by the directory are included they are at least $10,000. As an offset to these are the machinery that an offset to these are the meaninery cost $120,000, and the boundless possibilities the concern holds out to those who believe in it. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars has been expended in the construction of machinery. Over $1. who believe in it. One numere and mit-thousand dollars has been expended in the construction of machinery. Over$1,-500,000 has changed hands in the rise and fall of its stocks. There were 20,000 shares issued at a face value of $100. These shares sold first at $60, and then slid upward until they reached their maximum figure of $300 a share. Now they are down to nothing and no demand for them at that figure. This deprecia-tion is largely due to the adverse reports of Professors Knight, Baker, and Marks, who having examined the scheme, pro-nounced it a fraud, a snare, and a delu-sion.

MARRIAGE OF MRS. SHUNK .- The marringe of Mrs. Shunk, daughter of Judge Jere Black, to Mr. Hornsby, of Louisville, took place at York, Pa., yesterday. Mrs. Shunk is a lady of about 35, with the "society gray" hair that is so much admired when accompanied by bright eyes and a fresh complexion. Her eyes are blems in the park." dark, nose straight, mouth small, but firmly decisive. She is of medium height. She is one of the few women to the first meeting was not particularly objected to, but its adjournment gives universal satisfaction. The only mixture of regret is that it is not the second session that has ended instead of the first. It will meet again next December, but fortunate there was a reaction. Every question connected with business was attacked, nothing seemed settled, and no man could tall what policy would prevail. The wildest financial schemes were introduced, and theories were advocated that were as wild as the wildest Communistic doctrines. A radical revision of the tariff was undertaken, and a modification of the main features of the internal revenue system was proposed. Thus industries were paralyzed, capital was kept waiting, the revival of business was prevented, and notwithstanding fine harvests, a heavy demand for foreign surplus products, a trade balance largely in our favor, and the elements of prosperity everywhere visible, trade continued prostrate. There could be no confidence with such a Congress in session. Hundreds of millions would not measure the losses caused. and the elements of property every-where visible, trade continued prostrate. There could be no confidence with such a Congress in session. Hundreds of mil-lions would not measure the losses caused by the untamed and untamable body of men who have been for nearly nine grees, this fact should be kept constantly in mind.

So outraged have the people been that it has ceased to be an honor to hold a seat in Congress. This branch of the government has been brought into diarepute, and the people, instead of looking up to their Congressmen, as they used to do, are tempted to look down upon them with contempt. This leads to the still greater evil of driving good men out of public life, and surrendering the field of politics to a class that care nothing except for office. The remedy for all this is with the people. Power over the representative branch returns to the electors this year. Will the experience of the last nine months cause them to exercise that power wisely? We shall see.

At say rate the whole country has cause to be thankful that the first session of the 45th Congress has expired.

She is a favorite child of Judge Black's. He has often said that it was a great pity that she was not a man, because she is abetter lawyer than he is. With all her intellectual wealth Mrs. Shunk is a skilled and fascinating society lady. It has been her custom to spend her winters at Washington, and it was here that she met Mr. Hornsby. She used to divide attention at the hotel where she stopped with Mrs. General McFeely, of the army. Mrs. McFeely is one of the handsomest ladies of medium life that visits Washington. She has an abundance of silver-gray curls, that are set off by jet-black hats, plumes and filmy lace, until at times you are ready to swear that she has just stepped down out of some old picture.

Thousands of bankrupts, and millions of men who sought in vain for employment, can race their greatest troubles to the presence of that Congress in Washington. It is adjournment will prove a great relief to the industrial interest of the country. It would be a still greater relief if it could be known that it would not meet again, and that there would be no Congress for three years to come.

It has been further demonstrated that it is possible for the people to elect a country. It is not in an executive, but in what is called a representative body. Now that the greatest danger its not in an executive, but in what is called a representative body. Now that the people are about to elect a new Congress, this fact should be kept constantly in mind.

Excitement ran high yesterday moon in the vicinity of the Porterfield House on the appearance in that quarter of the majestic form of Mr. Orlands Archer, the City Marabal. It seem that a malicious woman, named Mrs. Martin, residing opposite the Porterfield House, had for the last few months made a specialty of throwing offal, garbage and other kitchen refuse into the yard before the heighbors doors, dc. dc., to vent a petty spite, as it seems. It is, however, presumed that she hereafter will profit by the stern warning received, and allow peace and quietness again to predominate in the neighbors hood.

Edwin Owen, boot and shoe maker, who left here a short time sgo to pay a visit to relations in Pittsburgh, returned to this place again to resume his old vocation. At the time of his leaving, the Bellaire correspondent of the Wheeling Register stated that Mr. Owen was compelled to "bounce" to escape payment of numerous unpaid bills, dc., which, to say the least, was a "gross fabrication."

Mr. J. C. Bascoe, a local freight conductor on the C. & P. R. R., was seriously injured here last Wednesday, late at night, by falling into a ditch while on his way to the cabouse. He was taken to his home at Newark, O., yesterday morning.

Out of Tune.

When the tones of a musical instrument becomes havanes of a musical instrument becomes havan and discordant, we say it is "out of time." The same may be said of that far more wonderful and complicated piece of mechanism, the human structure, when it becomes disordered. Not only actual disease, but those far more common causes, overwork, mental anxiety and fast living, may impair its vigor and activity. The best remedy for a partial collapse of the vital energies, from those as well as from other causes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is at the same time an agreeable and mind cheering cordial, and the best possible invigorant in all cases of debility. It is an incomparable stomachic and anti-bilious medicine, eradicates fever and ague, and prevents subsequent attacks. It remedies with certainty and thoroughness bowled and kidney complaints, dyspeysia, nervousness, rheumatic troubles, and many other bodily ailments. It also counteracts influences which predispose to disease.
